Put on the obi-ita (board) around your body (over the sash under your bust).

Fold one side of the obi in half 50-60cm and keep it on your shoulder. Wrap the long end of the obi twice around your body and tighten.

2.

Fold the bottom edge of the long side in to make it half.

Hold both ends, crossing the short edge over the long end, and tie it.

Make sure the short end ends up coming out the top of the tie.

3.

Make an accordion fold with the rest of the long end.

(The number of the folds you are able to make depends on its length or thickness.)

Insert the rest of the short end into the space between the obi and the yukata and pull it down from below.

After arranging the shape of the bow, put it behind your back by turning the obi clockwise.
